Gas system improvements to save consumers money

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
After only two years, the Bay St. Louis Gas Department almost has completed a five-year plan to upgrade the city's gas lines, said Charles Feigel, gas superintendent. Feigel estimated the work already completed, which reduced gas leakage from 28 percent to 4.7 percent in the past year, has saved the city approximately $200,000.

Santa Claus is coming to town

Santa Claus will officially kick off the Christmas season Sunday, at 4 p.m. at the Hancock County Courthouse on Main Street in Bay St. Louis. Santa will arrive on a fire engine and will visit with all the children who come to see him, according to Jeanne Garcia, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce special events chairman. Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, Waveland Mayor John Longo and Hancock County Board of Supervisors President A.A. Kellar will perform the official lighting of the Christmas tree. Local choral groups will also be on hand to provide musical entertainment. The public is urged to attend this event and bring the children to visit with Santa, Garcia stated.

rates could be justified, he would request the lower rate from the City Council. "I am not going to ask for a rate reduction at this time but wait until the program, which includes replacing all the gas lines in the city, is nearer to completion," Bennett said. He added that the city would probably not be able to complete the renovation project if consumers' rates were to be reduced at this time. Tuesday, the gas department completed a project for protecting about 10 miles of iron gas lines which have been determined to be in good shape. This method, called cathodic protection, uses an electric current flow on the line to prevent rusting. According to Feigel, the cathodic protection was installed at a cost of approximately $5,000, whereas to have replaced these lines would have cost nearly $200,000. The cost of maintaining the cathodic protection will be about $1 a day, Feigel said. The city has already replaced approximately 25 miles of the city's 49 miles of gas lines in the renovation project.

Bennet said the Public Service Commission had told the city the system must be improved. "Even if we had not been told to, it was inevitable that it would have to be done," he said. Before improvements began many of the system's lines were the cast-iron lines originally installed in the late 30s, Bennett said. Section of the lines replaced had holes that were slightly larger than the average pencil, Feigel said. He added that before the replacement of these lines, the high percent of leakage was producing a highly dangerous situation. The city council is seeking grant funds to replace the remaining 15 miles of gas lines not yet replaced or not under cathodic protection. "At this time we are waiting to hear about a $400,000 grant request," Bennett said. He said that the grant application is before a review committee and the council should receive notification any day. If received the grant funds will be used to partially replace gas lines on Ruella, Ulman, Carroll, St. George, De Montluzin, State, St. John, Easterbrook, Touline, Hancock, Bookter, Keller, Washington, Citizen, Ballentine, Caron and St. Charles. Any grant funds in excess of what is required for improvements on these streets will be applied to upgrading gas lines in other areas. In addition to the resulting savings with the reduction of the leakage, the city can now add up to six times the number of customers the gas department currently services, Utilities Supervisor Norbert Redmond said. "We had been afraid to increase GAS—Page 6A

About 530 cases of cheese, 100 cases of butter and 260 cases of milk were distributed under the government's donated commodities program. The welfare department employees were assisted by the Hancock County Extension Service and the Waveland American Legion, which allowed the post hall to be used as a distribution point. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Bank offers $1,000 reward for information on robbers

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Local law enforcement officials late Wednesday continued the search for two men who earlier this week robbed the Waveland branch of Merchants Bank and Trust Company on Coleman Avenue. Waveland Police Chief Donald Dorn reported late Wednesday there were no new developments but that one officer had been working with Gulfport officials throughout the day. Business resumed as usual Wednesday at the branch which is offering a $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of both robbers, said Richard Matheny, executive vice-president of Merchants. The two robbers approached a bank cashier at 12:30 p.m. One robber pulled a revolver and demanded money from the cashier, Dorn said. "The cashier began taking money from her drawer and one robber grabbed the money and the two fled the bank," Dorn said. The robbers were last seen headed toward Central Avenue on foot. Authorities assume the robbers were returning to a nearby vehicle. "No shot was fired during the robbery," Dorn said. Matheny said the amount taken had been determined but could not be released at this time. The armed robber was reportedly carrying a large, long-barreled blued steel revolver. He is described as a black male, large build, 180 to 190 pounds, 6 feet tall, short afro hairstyle and no facial hair. He was wearing a blue sweater and dark blue pants, said Dorn. Dorn described the second robber as a black male, large build, about 6 feet 1 inch tall and 190 to 200 pounds. He also had a short afro hairstyle and no facial hair and was wearing a camouflage jumpsuit over blue jeans, black lace-up boots and a dark-colored ski cap.

Bank manager Bill Breland said he always thought location of the bank would prevent the chance of it being robbed. "You can almost expect robberies out on the highway but I just didn't think we would have one here," he said. Breland also said that the bank had a camera surveillance system which would be examined for additional information on the robbery. The robbery is being investigated by the Waveland Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Assistance was provided with roadblocks immediately following the robbery by the Bay St. Louis Police Department, the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

Waveland police to move next year

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Waveland Police Department will move to larger quarters early in 1985. The city plans to construct a new police station next to Water Tower Plaza Shopping Center on US-90, according to Police Chief Donald Dorn. The building will replace the present station behind Waveland City Hall. Bids for the project were taken at a recent meeting of the board of aldermen and final approval on the low bid is expected Dec. 4. Contractors will be hired for the construction of a 5,000 square foot metal building, electrical work and plumbing, but most of the interior finishing work will be done by members of the police force, Dorn said.

Dorn said the police department has simply outgrown the present station, which is shared with Waveland Fire Department. "We just need more space because the city has grown and the police force has grown," he explained. The police department consisted of six men when the present station was constructed and now has 10 fulltime officers, eight dispatchers and clerks and 14 auxiliary policemen. Problems with the present station include lack of parking for both police and civilian vehicles, lack of office space and a need to evacuate when severe weather threatens. Some of the available space in the 1,200 square foot building has to be, MOVE—Page 6A

Zoning board decides to approve variance

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Waveland Planning and Zoning Board voted Monday to recommend approval of a backyard variance and to cancel its December meeting.

The variance allows the backyard of a Market Street lot owned by Pat Mayfield to be 14.5 feet shorter after construction of a house than the city normally requires. The variance will be recommended for final approval at the next board of aldermen meeting. The zoning board declared the request a "hardship case" because the lot, which measures 129 by 71.5 feet, is not considered deep enough to allow construction without the variance. The lot is also consistent in size with other lots on Market Street. The board also decided to cancel its December meeting, which if held as scheduled would be New Year's Eve. A special meeting will be called instead if the board needs to consider any requests prior to its January meeting.

Nuclear waste meetings scheduled

Mississippi citizens are invited to attend a series of information meetings and policy hearings concerning the state's nuclear waste program, which monitors the U.S. Department of Energy's search for a location to build a nuclear waste repository. Two south Mississippi salt domes are currently on the list of potential sites.

The state's Nuclear Waste Policy Advisory Council is sponsoring the meetings to be in Richton, Biloxi and Jackson, Nov. 30 through Dec. 7.

At the information meetings, technical representatives of several state agencies will form a panel to answer questions from the public. The next day, members of the Nuclear Waste Policy Advisory Council will hear comments and answer questions dealing with the state's policies regarding the nuclear waste issue.

An Interim Policy statement has been devised and approved by both the council and its parent body, the Energy & Transportation Board. Citizen input to these policies is desired before they are presented again for final adoption.

The meetings are scheduled as follows:

Information Meetings
Nov. 30, 6 p.m., Richton High School.
Dec. 4, 6 p.m., Marine Education Center, Biloxi.
Dec. 6, 6 p.m. Woolfolk Bldg., Jackson.

Policy Hearings
Dec. 1, 10 a.m. Richton High School.
Dec. 5, 6 p.m., Marine Education Center, Biloxi.
Dec. 7, 10 a.m., Woolfolk Bldg., Jackson.

Everyone is encouraged to attend these meetings to learn more about the nuclear waste disposal program and to provide input into the state's policies.

Free copies of the Interim Policy statement may be received by mail by calling (toll-free) the Mississippi Department of Energy & Transportation's Energy Answerline, 1-800-222-8311. Request the nuclear information and leave your name and address.

Pre-registration in progress for Annunciation School

After enough disappointment to frustrate even Saint Augustine himself, school board members have observed an upturn in the fight to keep Annunciation School in the Kiln open for the 1985-86 school years.

At a PTA meeting on Nov. 20, parents were told that the school's in-house pre-registration drive for the 1985-86 school year has produced 112 positive replies.

"With enrollment at 127 students now, we're very encouraged," said Bill Vrazel, a school board member.

"There's always a turnover in the student population, so this figure represents a solid mandate by parents to support present efforts to overcome the recent loss of the school's annual $100,000 subsidy," Vrazel said.

Annunciation School is presently conducting pre-registration and will continue to do so through Dec. 8.

According to Vrazel, the school's goal is 180 students, including the addition of a new seventh grade which the Diocese of Biloxi will be asked to approve if favorable results continue in the recruiting effort.

Pre-registration for the 1985-86 school year will be conducted after masses on Dec. 2 at the following locations: St. Stephen's, St. William, St. Anne's in Dellsie; St. Charles in Poyune; Annunciation, St. Joseph's, Kiln; St. Matthew and White Cypress; Sacred Heart in Dedaux and St. Anne's in Lizana.

In addition pre-registration will be conducted Dec. 1-8 at Dedaux Grocery Store; Diamondhead Country Club and Jane Peter's residence in Bay St. Louis (467-2994, 7 a.m.-10 p.m.).

Tuition for the 1985-86 school year will be $65 per month for the first child, $45 for second child, $35 for third child; and no charge for more than three.

For more information contact the school office, 255-1869.

Point of Law

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your legal rights.)

Q: My former husband is several months behind in the payment of child support but he still visits with our children on weekends. Can I prevent him from visiting until he catches up on his support payments?

A: You should not prevent visitation because support payments have not been made. Support and visitation are independent rights. Your former husband has the right to visit whether or not he ever pays child support, and conversely, owes the obligation of support whether or not he ever visits. Refusing visitation will subject you to contempt of Court. Should your former husband fall as much as three months behind in paying child support, you should contact your lawyer.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

The use of residential firewood for heating and fuelwood for commercial power generating is increasing. The number of households using wood more than doubled in the period 1978 to 1980 from 1.8 to 4.7 million households.

A Department of Energy survey showed that when main heating use and secondary heating use were combined wood ranked third as the most used fuel. This exceeded the number of users of kerosene and fuel oil.

In 1980 estimates indicated that 14 million homes used wood for all or part of their heating needs. Fire wood consumption accounted for 42 million cords burned by these home owners.

By comparison, American Pulpwood Association preliminary figures show that the nation pulp and paper industry consumed about 79.5 million cords in 1981. Estimates show that 207,500 Mississippi households burned nearly 400,000 cords of firewood in 1981.

Forestry owners should keep in mind that need for firewood is increasing. Many tree farmers have stands that need timber stand improvement, especially hardwood stands. Trees marked for removal can perhaps be sold or given away so remaining crop of trees can grow.

INSECTS ON FIREWOOD

Cool weather has finally arrived and many families will light a fire in their fireplace or woodstove soon. When bringing wood in the home, chances are insects will get in the door too.

Although a large number of insects may be found on the wood, most of them are harmless. The insects are usually looking for food or wintering places under loose bark or in hollow wood.

One insect can be more bothersome than others, however. Roaches hide under loose bark and usually are more of a problem where wood has been stacked over a long period of time.

Beetles, termites and carpenter ants aren't likely to become established in the home through firewood because they usually leave the firewood when their colonies are distributed.

It's easy to keep insects from entering your home on firewood and no insecticides are needed or recommended. Before carrying wood into the house, knock the sticks against something solid to jar the insects loose. Don't stack firewood in or against the house.

Stack the wood in cold areas of the house, such as the garage or unheated porch. Use the wood you carry in the house in a couple of days.

Snowflake Ball set for Dec. 8

Handicapped and older Mississippians will have an opportunity to kick off the Christmas season this year at the Governor's Snowflake Ball.

Scheduled from 2 until 3:30 p.m. Dec. 8 at the field house of the Raymond branch of Hinds Junior College, the dance is sponsored by the Governor's Office of Handicapped Services, Mississippi Council on Aging and Mississippi Association of Activity Professionals.

"Too often, elderly and handicapped persons are excluded from our traditional Christmas activities," said Jan Larsen, director of the Governor's Office of Handicapped Services. "The Snowflake Ball is designed especially for these individuals."

Music will be provided by Gabby Yeagle and the Fine Arts Ensemble. Yeagle, an 80-year-old master of the saxophone, performs regularly for handicapped and elderly groups. In the past five years, he has performed for more than 100 groups.

Admission is free to the dance, which will include decorations of a snowflake theme made by nursing home residents throughout the state.

Christmas cookies and holiday punch will be served. Donations of cups, punch and cookies will be accepted.

Persons wishing to donate items for the ball or wanting more information should contact the Governor's Service Line (toll free) at 1-800-222-7622.

The Islander

WALTER ANDERSON, like many artists, remained unrecognized by the public until after his death in 1965. Anderson found much of his inspiration for his works on his beloved Horn Island 16 miles off the Mississippi Gulf Coast near his hometown of Ocean Springs. He would sometimes row for three days in a little skiff to reach the island as depicted in these pen and ink drawings.

He would live on the island alone for weeks, painting. Anderson loved nature and at times felt "one with nature." He once strapped himself to a tree to witness a hurricane. A film portrait of Walter Anderson, "The Islander," can be seen at 5 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 2 on Mississippi ETV, ch. 19.

Mississippi Fair posters on sale

The Mississippi World's Fair Council, Inc. announces that the Old Capitol Museum Sales Shop in Jackson has been designated as an outlet for posters commemorating the Mississippi Pavilion at the 1984 Louisiana World Exposition.

The full-color posters, beautifully executed by artist Robin Evans, measure 22 x 36 inches and are available for $15 each plus tax. A limited quantity is available for purchase and the poster will not be reprinted.

Al Elmore, Executive Director of the Council, said the pavilion is being completely dismantled, so "the posters will serve as the only permanent reminder of the state's successful involvement in the 1984 World's Fair." Elmore commented that he believes they will soon become collector's items.

Ann Morrison, Programs Coordinator, stated that they are delighted to include the posters in their stock of items relating to Mississippi, adding that the posters will make excellent Christmas gifts.

The Old Capitol Museum is located on State and Capitol Streets in Jackson. The Museum Sales Shop is on the first floor and open 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday-Friday; 9:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. on Saturday; and 12:30 p.m.-4:30 p.m. on Sunday. Free parking for the Museum is available in the rear of the building.

Posters may be ordered by mail through the Museum Sales Shop, P.O. Box 571, Jackson, MS 39205, 364-8222.

Order forms for pavilion posters are also available through the Mississippi World's Fair Council, Inc., P.O. Box 2225, Jackson, MS 39205, 359-3414.

Quotables by Cuevas

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition will be held this morning at 7:30 a.m., Wheel Inn Restaurant, US-90, Bay St. Louis. State Senator Gene Taylor is scheduled to talk about the uniform type of school district in Mississippi.

This is Senate Bill 2384 which may eventually lead to consolidation of schools and should be of importance to many.

So, if you are an early riser, we hope you will be able to attend this very informative meeting.

The Morning Edition sponsor is Hancock Bank.

Santa Claus is coming to town on Sunday and will be visiting and taking orders for Christmas.

Santa is scheduled to arrive at the Hancock County Courthouse on a fire engine in Bay St. Louis at 4 p.m.

Area boys and girls are advised to have their gift requests ready to give to Santa so he can try and get them ready by Christmas.

A.A. Kellar, president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors; Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, and Waveland Mayor John Longo are scheduled to turn on the lights of the Christmas tree to officially open Hancock County's Christmas season.

Jeannie Garcia, special events chairman for the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, has been busy lining everything up for Santa's arrival. Special choral groups will be singing Christmas songs.

So, boys and girls, we hope to see you Sunday evening when you visit with Santa.

Clarice Gustin, executive director of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, reports that she is still taking reservations for the chamber's annual Christmas Banquet set for Friday, Dec. 7 at Diamondhead's Country Club.

Special entertainment is to be provided by USM's Southern Exposure and we understand they are the best ever.

Persons interested in making reservations can call Gustin at 467-9048.

Congratulations are in order for John Mason upon his being elected as president; Cathy Fernandez, vice-president; and Dick Thomas, treasurer of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday.

We know Mason will do a fine job as president of the chamber along with the other officers and directors.

Pat Harvill, outgoing president, has to be commended for the fine job she did during the past year.

MEC MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL

ANOTHER CASE FOR COUNTY UNIT

For years now support for the unit system of county road operations has been growing. Over a period of years legislative committees and other study groups have pointed to the millions of tax dollars being wasted in Mississippi because of the shoddy management of county road systems.

Now comes another case for county unit, this time in the form of an inventory of county road equipment prepared by the State Department of Audit.

In particular, says County Administrator Larry Butler of Tunica County, one of the few counties operating under the unit system, the number of motor graders owned by a county indicates the efficiency of the road program.

Tunica County, managed by Butler, owns five motor graders, heavy equipment priced at about $100,000 each on today's market. That's one road grader for each 57 miles of unpaved roads.

On the other hand, Forrest County owns 14 road graders, or one road grader for each 4.6 miles. Which county is the more efficient—the one with one $100,000 grader for each 57 miles or the one with one $100,000 grader for each 4.6 miles?

It's just a matter of time. When Mississippi taxpayers have had enough of this wasteful and extravagant use of their tax dollars, they will demand a mandatory unit system.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Race, sex should not be considered in selection of police chief

Nov. 26, 1984
Mr. Editor:

I have seen several letters recently inferring racial discrimination in reference to the selection of the new police chief in Bay St. Louis.

It is very unreasonable to expect this job to be filled on the basis of race or sex.

What about experience, training, and knowledge of the area?

The mayor has had many people apply for the job, it's not like his only choice is between Murray Ladner and Robert Butler.

I have also applied for chief of police.

Having prior experience on the Bay force and training to my credit, I felt I had the qualifications to be considered also.

The chief of police is not publicly elected, but appointed by the mayor. If the citizens here want a choice in selecting the chief, they need to change the system.

Thank you,
Barbra Ellspermann Snow
Bay St. Louis

HNC blood drawing response draws commendation from adult observer

Nov. 24, 1984
Dear Editor,

It was my very good fortune this week to have had the pleasure of working with some of the finest young people in Hancock County.

I was asked to handle the blood drawing at Hancock North Central School in the absence of Mr. John Rutherford, chairman.

I have worked with the blood bank since the early 1960's, almost 25 years. This time I was only an observer.

Mrs. Barbara White, adult advisor, and Miss Alice, student chairman, were well prepared.

They furnished the students to man the registration desk, the canteen, where drinks from McDonald's and cookies from the Home Economics Department were served, and they even had two students to assist donors on and off the tables and to the canteen.

These young people set up a schedule and the students flowed through the gym all day in a very orderly fashion.

We were never overcrowded nor were we ever idle.

We registered 106 donors and we drew 100 pints.

Some of our larger adult drawings haven't done that well lately.

We always hear and read in big bold type the things our young people do that are illegal or wrong morally, but for some unknown reason when 106 young people do something really great, no one writes about it even in small print.

I would personally like to congratulate and thank the students of Hancock North Central High School. I think you did a great job.

Take notice adults, this is the future of Hancock County, and I for one think things are looking up.

Sincerely,
Lou Wilkerson
Hancock County
Blood Bank Member

It's not too early to put up Christmas decorations

Dear Sea Coast Echo,

I don't want to be forceful, but I have to.

You remember my letter on holiday decorations?

Well, I got some comments that it made some people feel really guilty, and I am glad it did.

Some people keep saying children of any age don't notice things and I think that is very untrue, because even babies notice things, lights, pictures, colors, etc.

I hate to have people think I'm trying to tell them or make them do something, but some people care more about working than their own children, and I don't think it's right to just put out one or two candles for Christmas and that's all!

And some won't put trees up because of little ones, and I think everyone and every child deserves a bright and enjoyable Christmas.

Today I took down all Thanksgiving decorations and put up my Christmas decorations and made it extra special this year for all my nieces and nephews.

They will all come for Christmas, including friends, before or during the holidays.

The grandchildren are all special. They all like different things, but some of them like the same.

Three of my nephews like snowmen and my nieces like reindeer and all other Christmas stuff.

The youngest ones are two years old and they get really excited about Christmas and most big holidays.

In my first letter I mentioned about wreaths. Well, for the first time this year we used a wreath, and I would like to invite any of the readers to come look at our decorations.

Sincerely,
Betty Caldwell
Bay St. Louis

AG office to sponsor consumer protection bills in '85 session

PROPOSED LEGISLATION
Attorney General Ed Pittman reports his office plans to sponsor three pieces of legislation in the 1985 session which will include a "Lemon Law" as well as regulations affecting health spas and dance studios.

LEMON LAWS
At least one in every 1,000 cars sold daily in the United States is a "lemon." Some 30 states have already enacted laws which provide recourse to consumers who purchase such defective new cars.

Under the proposed law, Mississippi consumers will be entitled to another new car or a complete refund if they buy a car having a material defect which could not be corrected within three attempts. The defect must be material or substantially hinder the vehicle's operation.

Complaints involving automobile repair constitutes the greatest percentage of all complaints received by the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office.

HEALTH SPAS AND DANCE STUDIOS

The intent of these proposed laws is to protect against consumer losses due to unexpected closings, contract misunderstandings and unreasonable terms.

Both laws will require a business to file bonds, to give consumers a five-day period in which to rescind the agreement, to limit the number of lessons or sessions, in cases of prepaid contracts, and to provide for the refund of any unexpired portion.

The health studio law also requires that a detailed registration statement be on file with the Attorney General's Office.

HEALTH SPA Summary

1) Definition to include weight reducing salons, massage centers, exercise clubs or gyms, health studios, etc. Shall not include non-profit organizations such as YMCA, YWCA, karate or self-defense centers and those associated with schools, colleges or universities.

2) Bond in the amount of $25,000 shall be required and filed with the State Treasurer.

3) Registration statement should be required and filed with the Attorney General's Office of Consumer Protection. Registration statement shall include the name and address of the spa, names and addresses of officers, directors and stockholders, type of available facilities and services, the type and cost of membership plans to be offered, and disclosure of pending or completed litigation initiated against the health spa within the last three years.

4) Contract shall provide for a five-day rescission period. Notice of rescission period must be conspicuously located on the face of the contract.

5) Contract shall be in writing and a copy given to the consumer at the time of signing.

6) Due to death or disability, the consumer or their estate is relieved of further payments under contract. If prepaid, consumer or their estate is entitled to a refund of the unexpired portion.

7) Contracts shall be limited to a one-year period and any financing agreement shall be limited thereto. Spas will no longer offer contracts for lifetime memberships.

8) Persons who violate the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 and/or one year in jail.

DANCE STUDIOS Summary

1) Contracts for dance studio lessons shall be in writing. A copy of the written contract shall be given to the customer at the time of signing a contract.

2) Contracts shall be limited to $2,000 and financing agreement should not extend beyond 12-month period.

3) Contracts must provide for a five-day rescission period which should be conspicuously displayed therein. Consumers must give notice in writing.

4) Contracts for dance studio lessons shall contain a written statement of the hourly rate to be charged for each type of lesson.

5) Due to death or disability, the consumer or estate is relieved of further payments under the contract. If prepaid, estate or consumer is due a refund for such unexpired portion.

6) Contract provisions cannot be waived, and violations shall render contract void and unenforceable.

7) Dance studios shall maintain a $10,000 bond which shall be filed with the State Treasurer.

8) Provisions of this law do not apply to dance studios which offer contracts for less than $500.

9) Persons who violate the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 and/or one year in jail.

LEMON LAW Summary

1) A Lemon Law is a statute which provides recourse to the purchaser of a new motor vehicle that requires an inordinate amount of repairs within a specified period from the date of delivery.

2) If the manufacturer cannot fix the same problem after three attempts, the purchaser will be entitled to a new vehicle or a complete refund.

3) The defect complained of must be material or must substantially hinder the vehicle's operation.

4) The defects may be ones which breach the manufacturer's express warranty (which may have expired) in addition to statutorily granted implied warranties.

5) The consumer must first seek redress through an established arbitration or a mediation board, if any should exist. For example, the General Motor/Better Business Bureau Arbitration or the Chrysler Arbitration Board.

Consumer Update From Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Are you holding E Bonds?

About $608 million worth of E Bonds are still unredeemed. Bonds issued from May, 1941 through July, 1944, are over the 40-year mark and are no longer earning interest. (Source: U.S. News Washington Letter, 8/17/84)

On exchanging Series EE U.S. Savings Bonds

If you are retired or approaching retirement, it may benefit you to investigate exchanging Series EE or Series E bonds for Series HH. This exchange would defer tax liability for all the interest you had accumulated on the EE bonds. After the change, you will have a semi-annual interest payment to be reported on Form 1040. When you redeem the Series HH, report interest to be the difference between the cost and the redemption value of the bonds.

On "Living Wills" Mississippians now have the opportunity to choose whether or not they wish to be kept alive by extraordinary means in the case of terminal illness or injury. According to a 1984 law passed by the Legislature, state residents can file a "Living Will" that will govern the actions taken by a hospital or physician in the event that a person is deemed terminally ill or injured.

The declaration states: "I, being of sound mind, declare that if at any time I should suffer a terminal physical condition which causes me severe distress or unconsciousness, and my physician, with the concurrence of two other physicians, believes that there is no expectation of my regaining consciousness or a state of health that is meaningful to me and but for the use of life-sustaining mechanisms my death would be imminent, I desire that the mechanisms be withdrawn so that I may die naturally. However, if I have been diagnosed as pregnant and that diagnosis is known to my physician, this Declaration shall have no force or effect during the course of my pregnancy.

"I further declare that this Declaration shall be honored by my family and my physician as the final expression of my desires concerning the manner in which I die."

"Living Will" declarations, which can be completed by any competent Mississippi resident 18 years or older, should be filed with the state Department of Health, Division of Public Health Statistics. Signatures of two witnesses and a filing fee of $10 to help cover administrative costs must accompany the form. Procedure forms for filing are available in each county health department and at all hospitals.

Anyone who files a "Living Will" may cancel the declaration by filing a revocation form, which is contained in the procedures package. There is no charge for filing the revocation form.

BY KATY MCGUIRE CAIRE

Time is growing short for cooking up those treats for Christmas gifts for family and friends, for what is more warming to the heart than a gift of homemade delicacies, meant just for you?

One of my favorites over the years is that Southern specialty, hot pepper jelly, a very versatile treat. It's delicious with meats or chicken or ham, and is a special cocktail treat, spooned over a block of cream cheese and served with crisp crackers. (Why do we food writers always specify "crisp"—do we really think you'd drag out the forgotten soggy, squishy ones, I wonder?)

So, cook up a batch of this tangy jelly, put it into a handsome glass jar, and deck it with red ribbons and holly or pyracantha sprigs. Here's:

PEPPER JELLY

¾ cup bell (green) peppers, chopped

¾ cup hot peppers, chopped

1½ cups cider vinegar

6 cups sugar

1 bottle Certo (6 oz.)

Bring all ingredients, except the Certo, to a boil, stirring constantly. Skim surface, then add the Certo and boil for a minute or so longer, still stirring. Set aside.

When it cools, pour into glasses or other containers, and seal with paraffin, for distribution to your most deserving friends.

Another favorite is that old-time Southern specialty, aptly named Jezebel Sauce, used in much the same way as the Pepper Jelly. Here's a relatively mild and easily made:

ORANGE JEZEBEL SAUCE

1 18-oz. jar apple jelly
1 18-oz. jar pineapple or apricot preserves

3 Tbsp. dry mustard

4 Tbsp. horseradish

¼ tsp. finely grated orange peel

½ tsp. black pepper

¼ tsp. poppy or mustard seed

Combine all ingredients, stir well.

Cover and refrigerate—it keeps indefinitely. For gift giving, spoon into smaller jars and cover. This is also good as a dip for egg rolls or fried chicken.

For a bit more of a "tear jerker," but oh-so-good, try:

JEZEBEL SAUCE

1 18-oz. jar pineapple preserves

1 18-oz. jar pineapple preserves

1 5-oz. jar horseradish

1 can dry mustard (small)

Mix well. Spoon into quart jar or smaller jars and refrigerate.

ASCS Report

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) is currently accepting applications for the 1985 feed grain, wheat, cotton and rice acreage reduction programs.

Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS Office, said the acreage reduction programs are necessary to control excess crop supplies and maintain a better balance between supply and demand.

"All farmers with an established acreage base are eligible to participate in the voluntary programs," he said.

For participating in the 1985 programs, farmers will be eligible to receive deficiency payments and price support loans. Additionally, the wheat, upland cotton and rice programs offer land diversion payments.

Projected deficiency payments are 47 cents per bushel for corn, 48 cents for sorghum, 44 cents for barley, $1.08 for wheat, 19.80 cents per pound for upland cotton, and $3.80 per hundredweight for rice.

Land diversion payments have been established at $2.70 per bushel for wheat, 30 cents per pound for upland cotton, and $3.50 per hundredweight for rice.

Gennin said these payments compensate farmers for taking land out of production in addition to the acreage requirement.

"Advance payments equal to one-half of the projected deficiency payment rate and one-half of the land diversion payment rate will be offered to farmers during the signup period."

According to Gennin, a 10 percent acreage reduction requirement is in effect for 1985 feed grains and extra long staple cotton.

By participating in these programs, farmers will again help to maintain reasonable levels of carryover stocks and strengthen farm prices and only those farmers who take part will be eligible for program benefits.

William Barrett promoted to director

William F. Barrett has been promoted to mission success director of the Michoud Division in New Orleans.

Barrett has been with the division for 11 years; his latest assignment was as manager of the lightweight tank program.

A retired Air Force Captain, he served with the 8th Air Force 379th Bomb Group as pilot from September 1943 until March 1944, and earned the Distinguished Flying Cross.

He also was a B-17 and B-29 flight instructor and flight commander at MacDill Field, Fla. from 1944-45.

From 1948 to 1960, Barrett advanced from stress analyst for what was then the Glenn L. Martin Co. in Baltimore, Md. to staff engineer in structures.

He became program manager of several high temperature technology research programs during the 60's and assumed the position of manager of advanced structures and materials for the company's Denver operation in 1970.

Barrett was born in Sewickley, Pa. He received a bachelor of science degree in aeronautical engineering from Pennsylvania State University and was historian for Sigma Tau Engineering Honor Society and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA).

Barrett and his wife live in Slidell, La.

ETV Briefs

"WONDERWORKS"

"Wonderworks" presents a double feature at 8 p.m., Monday, Dec. 3, on Mississippi ETV.

The hour begins with "All Summer in a Day," based on a short story by Ray Bradbury, followed by "Danny's Egg," shot on location in Australia.

"All Summer in a Day" is a science fiction story set on a planet where the sun has not shone in nine years. On one eventful day, however, it popped out from behind the clouds for a brief hour.

In the comedy "Danny's Egg," a young boy takes care of a mysterious black egg. He protects it and even builds an incubator for it. The fun stops when, during a special event honoring his parents, the egg begins to hatch inside his coat pocket.

SHAKESPEARE PLAY

"Much Ado About Nothing" is the next production slated for presentation on "The Shakespeare Plays" at 9 p.m., Friday, Nov. 30, on Mississippi ETV.

The witty battle of the sexes pits Benedict against Beatrice while Claudio, a brave and virtuous lord, falls in love with Hero, the governor's daughter.

Soil Conservation Service Newsletter

By Doug Stephens

Know the Soil You Build On

You buy or build your dream house—after months of anxious looking, several visits to the bank, hours of juggling costs, savings and home needs.

The house has everything you think you need: beauty, nice location, satisfactory construction, modern convenience, enough space and a price you can almost afford.

So you move in anticipating a tax shelter and a hedge against inflation. There may be some minor adjustments—the door may stick or the paint streak.

Then it happens. The septic tank doesn't work. The foundation slips or cracks or your split level house really does split. Your dream house turns into an expensive nightmare.

It can't happen to you, you say—not after poring over blueprints, watching the construction daily, and meeting with your contractor, or after looking at dozens of houses before selecting one to buy. You were so careful to check everything. Everything; that is, but the soil—the basic foundation of your house.

It can happen and it has happened to thousands of intelligent, prudent homeowners throughout the country. Those ugly slips, cracks, and flooded houses often go through the savings of a lifetime.

The home buyers looked at their houses from the foundation up forgetting that underneath was soil. They forgot, or never knew that different soils vary widely in their qualities and in their suitability for building purposes.

In short, they ignored the soil on which they built or purchased their house.

If you are planning to buy or build a house, examine the soil carefully—before you buy or build, or ask a qualified specialist to do so.

What should you look for when considering where to buy or build? Among the things you ask yourself:

—Will the soil support my house without settling or cracking?

—What about the water table and the soil permeability?

—Will it flood under certain conditions?

—Can I use a septic system, or does the soil absorb moisture so slowly that the effluent will come to the surface and cause a serious health hazard?

—Is the lot in a flood plain subject to flooding from nearby waterways during a heavy storm?

—Is the lot on a hillside subject to slippage or severe soil erosion?

—Will the soil support grass, flowers, shrubs, and trees, or is it "fill" or raw subsoil that needs added topsoil or special fertilizer and special care.

In general, the ideal soil for most uses is one that is more than 5 feet deep, moderately permeable to water, free from flooding or high water tables, and level to gently sloping. Such soils generally support both building and growing plants.

the number of customers very much before because of the leakage," he said.

Norbert added there is currently no tapping fee for gas service.

Another positive result from reducing the leakage is that the number of calls reporting a suspected gas leak has been reduced from three a day to about one every three months, Feigel said.

"With the improvements we have made, in addition to the savings from the decrease in leakage, we have cut down on repairs, maintenance, materials, overtime and insurance," Feigel added.

The entire project should be complete within the next year if the grant funds are secured, Feigel said.

used for more than one purpose, Dorn said.

"We have a patrolman's office but most of the time it's being used by the court clerk. The patrolmen use it when the clerk isn't there," Dorn explained.

He also said the station is so close to the ocean that personnel and equipment must be moved to the city's central fire station when a hurricane is expected. "Being on the highway would eliminate the need to move," the chief said.

In addition to a lobby and a dispatcher's room, the new station will solve the space problem by providing two holding cells, three investigator's offices, two patrolmen's offices and a chief's office.

Other facilities will include a photography laboratory, a courtroom and storage space.

The courtroom will be used for city court, which presently meets in city hall.

In addition, the new station will be provided with a computer system designed to simplify record keeping, Dorn said. The computer will be programmed to handle arrest and accident reports and court information. Final approval on the bids for the computer is also expected Dec. 4.

Dorn said the police hope to be in the new station by February.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1984-1B

Coach Loiacano to be honored at powerlifting championship

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

Coach J. E. Loiacano of Bay St. Louis will be special guest of honor at the second annual Nelius C. Rhodes Memorial Powerlifting Championships in Gulfport Saturday.

J. E. LOIACANO

Loiacano will be recognized for his contributions to the athletic development of youth on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and for his personal achievements in the sports field, said Doc Rhodes, coordinator of the event.

Former head football coach at Bay St. Louis High and Gulfport High, Loiacano will be honored during the championship awards presentation between 6 and 7 p.m. Saturday.

Loiacano served as strength coach in the Mississippi State University athletic program before taking over management of Loiacano's Health Center in Bay St. Louis.

Rhodes said a special invitation is extended to family, friends and former players of Loiacano's to attend the ceremonies at Gaston Hewes Recreation Center, 2608 17th St., Gulfport.

The powerlifting events will begin at the center at 9 a.m. Saturday and are expected to continue through approximately 6 p.m., Rhodes said.

Sanctioned by the Southern Association of the American Drug-Free Powerlifting Association, Saturday's championships will include an attempt by 19-year-old Jesse Kellum of New Orleans, La. to bench press 360 pounds, an American record in the 148-pound class.

Kellum is a student at John Ehret High School in New Orleans.

Competitors are expected from Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Arkansas, Alabama and Georgia, added Rhodes, himself a world powerlift title holder and owner-operator of Rhodes Fitness Centers in Gulfport.

Although Saturday's event is the second named in honor of the late Nelius Rhodes of Bay St. Louis, this year's championships will be the eighth meet to be sponsored in Gulfport, Doc Rhodes pointed out. Nelius Rhodes, father of Doc Rhodes, served some 20 years as a Justice Court judge in Hancock County and was the county's first Youth Court judge.

Before his death in 1983, Judge Rhodes maintained an active interest in powerlifting and assisted in organization of the championships now named in his honor.

WORLD'S FAIR PERFORMERS—The Pearl River College marching band and String of Pearls recently performed at the Louisiana World's Fair. The Pearls and band also performed as host band at the Pizayne High School Band Festival. These band members from

First annual Soccer Jamboree slated Saturday

The first annual Soccer Jamboree will be held Saturday at Biloxi Stadium.

The preliminary game will begin at 11 a.m. with a contest between two Under-14 Select Teams.

The college game will begin at 1:30 p.m. with Millsaps and Belhaven vying for the championship.

There are 12 Gulf Coast area players on the college teams as many colleges are now offering scholarships to soccer players.

The Gulf Coast Soccer Clubs are sponsoring this event and it will offer an opportunity for any young people interested in soccer to learn more about how soccer is played on an advanced level.

Tickets may be purchased from the Gulf Coast Soccer Clubs or at the stadium.

Moore joins USM cage coaching staff

Jackson Callaway head basketball coach Ralph Moore has joined the coaching staff at the University of Southern Mississippi, according to

Copiah-Lincoln Junior College. Moore joins the Eagles after a highly successful prep coaching career at Brandon and Callaway High Schools.

The McComb native is married to the former DeLydia Martin of McComb and they have a daughter, Shannon, 4.

Ladycats open at home tonight

Pearl River College's Lady Wildcats pushed their overall record to 3-1 last week with a 63-48 win over the Jones Lady Bobcats in the Southwest Thanksgiving Tournament.

Carolyn Little led the Lady Cats with 24 points and 10 rebounds, while Arlisa Silas netted 13.

The Lady Wildcats, under head coach Ned Eades, have defeated Meridian, LSU-A and now Jones while losing only to undefeated Southwest.

This week the Lady Wildcats will open their home schedule at 6 p.m. against Meridian in the PRC Coliseum Thursday night.

Pearl River cagers off to slow start

Pearl River College came up on the short end of two games this week in the Thanksgiving Gulf Coast Junior College Classic at Panama City, Fla.

The PRC Wildcats lost to Chipola 73-71 the first day and then 80-74 to Florida's Gulf Coast Junior College. The losses dropped the Wildcats' record to 1-4 for the year.

Carl Firven of New Orleans and Malcolm Branham of Gallatin, Tenn. led the Cats scoring against Chipola. Firven was also the leading scorer against Gulf Coast as he pumped in 27. Donald Dunston of Poplarville netted 21 and Ben Matlock of Warren Central, Ky. hit for 12.

The Wildcats, under head coach Lawrence Smithmeir, are off to an unexpected slow start in '84. The Cats defeated Mississippi Delta, but have lost to Meridian, Hinds and the two Florida teams.

The Wildcats were to play Southwest Tuesday night before entertaining Meridian in Poplarville Thursday night.

Research grant awarded

A research grant to develop a workable plan for siting artificial reefs in federal waters of the Gulf of Mexico has been awarded to the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium, according to Dr. James I. Jones, director.

The $115,000 grant for the first year of the multi-year study was approved by the National Marine Fisheries Service from Saltonstall-Kennedy funds, special federal funds earmarked for fisheries research and development and derived from taxes on seafood products.

Practical guidelines for selecting reef sites will be established based on direct and indirect costs of reef development as well as anticipated benefits, Jones said.

The study will use a multidisciplinary approach to address biological, legal, economic, operational and social issues associated with establishment of artificial reefs.

Development of detailed siting plans for three Gulf Coast states involves the study areas Gulfport-Biloxi; Mobile Bay area (Pascagoula, Ms; Dauphin Island, Ala.; and Gulf Shores, Ala.); and the Florida panhandle (Pensacola, Ft. Walton Beach and Destin).

In addition to the researchers involved in the study, an advisory group of representatives from affected Gulf Coast states will be established.

The Consortium is providing structure and leadership for the project.

Participating investigators from Consortium member institutions are Dr. Arthur Cosby, Mississippi State University, sociological component; Dr. Semoon Chang, University of South Alabama, economic component; and Dr. A.L. Sage III, University of Mississippi, legal component.

Continental Shelf Associates, Inc. will carry out the biological and operational aspects of the study.

Sea Grant is a federal-state partnership to promote the wise use and development of the nation's marine and Great Lakes resources through research, education and public service.

Sea Grant in Mississippi and Alabama is a consortium of universities and research institutions. Mississippi members are Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, Jackson State University, Mississippi State University, University of Mississippi and University of Southern Mississippi.

Alabama members are Auburn University, University of Alabama, University of Alabama in Birmingham and University of South Alabama.

'Speaking Oracles of God'

—1 Peter 4:11

By W. Edwin Kearley, Minister
311 Pine St. Bay St. Louis

My Kingdom Is Not Of This World (Part III)

A failure to recognize the nature of the kingdom of Christ has caused much misunderstanding and division among those who claim to follow Christ. An adherence to the New Testament pattern would bring about unity and increase the influence of Christianity.

Historically, the kingdom of Christ has been downgraded as merely a non-essential institution. While speaking to the elders of the church of Ephesus at Meletus Paul said, "Take heed therefore, unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood" (Acts 20:28). It would seem that anything which cost the blood of the Son of God would be very important.

Christ is the head of his kingdom. In speaking of God the Father's action toward Christ, Paul said, "And hath put all things under his feet and gave him to be the head over all things to the church" (Eph. 1:22). Jesus had declared prior to his ascension, "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth" (Matt. 28:18). There has promised to be with us "even unto the end of the world" (Matt. 28:20).

How is the kingdom designated in the New Testament? It is called the "body of Christ" (Eph. 1:23). It is referred to as the "house of God" (1 Tim. 3:15). What does Paul mean when he calls the kingdom of Christ the "house of God?" Let us see how the world is used in Heb. 11:7.

"By faith Noah being warned of God of things not seen, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his HOUSE; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of righteousness which is by faith." Noah's house was his wife, three sons and their wives. Therefore his house was his family. The house of God of 1 Tim. 3:15 is the family of God. Therefore the kingdom or church is the family of God.

Paul uses Christ and his relationship with the church to teach Christian relationship between husband and wife. Paul taught, "Husbands love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it" (Eph. 5:25). This confirms the church as the bride of Christ. The fidelity of the church to Christ should be as the fidelity of a wife should be to her husband.

Another figure used to describe the kingdom is the word "leaven." "Another parable spake he unto them: the kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened" (Matt. 13:33).

As yeast in dough makes it increase in size so Christians must use their influence to cause the kingdom of Christ to grow.

Jesus said, "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel (bowl), but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven" (Matt. 5:14-16).

Some day Christ will deliver his kingdom to God, the Father. Paul said, "Then cometh the end, when he (Christ) shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power. For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet" (1 Cor. 15:24-25).

CRAWFISH PIE
2 lb. crawfish tails (chopped)
1/2 c. parsley
1/2 c. onion (chopped)
cooking oil - salt & pepper
Pie Shell
Put crawfish tails, parsley & onion in pan with oil. Cook 10 min. Stir in salt & pepper; pour into pie shell and bake in 350° oven 20 crust brown.

OVEN BAKED (Bar B Que) SHRIMP-IN SHELL
1 lb. Shrimp (med.) de headed
1/2 lb. oleo or butter
Black Pepper (or white)
Preheat oven 400°
Place shrimp on baking dish (just touching). Put one-half of the melted oleo or butter on them evenly. Sprinkle black pepper on them until they are black & bake 3 min. Take out and top with oleo & pepper on, bake another 3 min. The flavoring goes through the shell & makes a sauce that's delicious for dipping bread.

Christmas concert to feature Canin

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra, directed by James Shannon, will feature American violinist Stuart Canin at the Christmas concert scheduled for Dec. 8 at Biloxi High School. This will be Canin's third trip to play with the orchestra.

Canin showed great talent as a violinist at an early age in his native New York City. There he was chosen by the famous teacher, Ivan Galamian, as a student. In 1959 he won the most prestigious of all violin awards, the Paganini International Competition in Genoa, Italy. One year later he was honored by his native city with its highest cultural award, the Handel Medal, in recognition of his musical achievements.

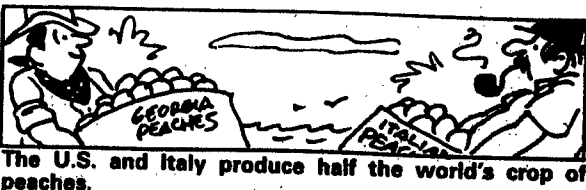

Canin was concertmaster and violin soloist with the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia before joining the San Francisco Symphony.

As concertmaster of the San Francisco Symphony under Seiji Ozawa, Canin was featured as soloist with the orchestra on numerous occasions, including concerts in Moscow, Leningrad, Berlin and Tokyo as part of the symphony's tours of Europe, the Soviet Union and Japan. As soloist, Canin was concertized throughout the two continents.

Presently he pursues an active concert career as well as being on the faculties of the California Institute of the Arts, the University of California, Santa Barbara, California State University at Long Beach, and is an artist faculty member of the Summer Music Festival of Music Academy of the West, Santa Barbara. Canin will perform the Brahms Violin Concerto with the Gulf Coast Symphony.

The orchestra, under Mr. Shannon, will open the program with the 'Overture to the Italian in Algiers' by Rossini. Following intermission, the orchestra will present a program mainly with the spirit of Christmas. First will be the 'Siegfried Idyll' by Wagner, which was first played on Christmas in 1870 for Cosima, Wagner's wife, in honor of their new son, Siegfried. Then 'The Toy Symphony' by Hady, with members of the orchestra playing on toy instruments will be featured. To conclude the concert, a package of familiar Christmas songs will be presented.

The U.S. and Italy produce half the world's crop of peaches.

HOW WE GOT OUR OTHER NAME

Everybody knows WINN-DIXIE's "other" name is The Beef People...and with good reason! W-D Brand Beef has made us famous! Here's why. We start by selecting only the best U.S. Choice beef. Then, we let it age naturally for quality flavor and tenderness. Next, our meat experts give it our own special W-D Brand trim to remove excess bone and fat. When it's just right, we put our W-D Brand shield on it, and put it in our large meat case so you can take it home and treat your family to really good eating!

That's why, when people think of quality beef, they think of the Beef People.

Local students can study in Europe

"Qualified high school students are offered a unique opportunity to spend an academic year or six week summer holiday in Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Finland, Germany, Great Britain, Holland or Iceland, as part of the American Scandinavian Student Exchange (ASSE) program," said Carole Powell, southern director of ASSE.

"Until a few years ago, only a fortunate few could afford to spend a school year or summer in Scandinavia, Germany, Great Britain or Holland. Now, ASSE had changed all that," continued Powell.

Students, 15 to 18 years old, are selected on the basis of a good academic record, excellent character references and a genuine desire to experience life abroad with a volunteer European host family.

"At least one member of the carefully screened host family will be fluent in English," added Powell, "so that communication will not be a problem." Year students are provided language/culture instruction as part of the ASSE program.

The non-profit ASSE is affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education and has been officially designated by the U.S. Information Agency as an Exchange Visitor Program. The ASSE exchange program enables qualified teenagers to live and study in European countries in order to learn from cultures other than their own.

Local students interested in receiving more information about the cultural and educational advantages of living in Scandinavia, Germany, Great Britain or Holland, may contact Lyn Oerting, 1115 Highland Dr., Picayune, MS 39466, 601-798-0557.

CYO AWARD—Mrs. Louise Gibbens, third from left, recently was honored by the officers and members of St. Clare Catholic Youth Organization on the occasion of her retirement as adult advisor to the group. Ms. Gibbens, who along with Fr. William Vollar founded the St. Clare CYO some four years ago, in addition was honored at a recent CYO convention with the organization's "Youth And God Award" for "outstanding service and dedication to youth." Participating in the retirement program are, from left, Shannon O'Brien, secretary; Danielle Brown, vice president; Gibbens; Bobby Parker, president; Julie Guntard, sergeant-at-arms; and Keri Kingston, treasurer.

SCHOLARSHIP—Dorothy Sutton, left, Altrusa Club treasurer, presents a $50 check to Emily deMontluzin for the Emily deMontluzin Foreign Language Scholarship Fund. The fund was established in 1983 by deMontluzin's friends and former students. The first scholarship awarded from the fund is currently assisting Mary Langenbacher, a Waveland resident studying French at University of Mississippi. The scholarship is one of two assisted annually by the Altrusa Club. (Staff photo by Dena Blissette)

USM school for children with impaired hearing receives $35,000

The School for Children with Impaired Hearing at the University of Southern Mississippi has received a $35,000 grant from federal funds administered by the State Department of Education.

The school, which has 12 preschool children enrolled this semester, uses the total communication philosophy which employs both sign language and speech-in-language instruction to prepare the children for the regular classrooms at the first grade level, according to Director of Deaf Education Dr. Noel Lehrer.

The school has two full-time teachers and nine part-time aides this semester. The grant enables the school to conduct a nine-month session from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. weekdays. The school also receives a supplemental grant from the state department, allowing for a 13-15 week summer program.

Children enrolled in the school have to be ruled eligible according to state department guidelines. Children brought in by parents are accepted on an observation/diagnostic basis. Referrals also come from physicians, from the University Affiliated Program diagnostic team and through cribogram testing done at Forrest General Hospital.

Most of the students were born deaf, others have hearing loss ranging from moderate to severe due to such conditions as meningitis, rubella and other illnesses.

Linda Cubley, coordinator of the school and teacher of the four-and-over age group, and Christina Tardy, who works with the three-and-under age group, use a language program developed by USM faculty member Kate Bonnickson.

"We do what parents do at home—involve the children in activities and talk about what they are doing. We must plan for the repetition our children miss due to their hearing loss. We plan for many exposures of the vocabulary and basic sentence patterns of English," said Cubley.

The method involves a lot of toys, a story time every day with the books linked to sentence strips and sign language. Field trips to such places as the USM Equestrian Center, Kamper Park and such activities as tumbling class and swimming instruction also increase the students' vocabulary and expressive ability.

"We have had students come from zero language to being able to identify who and what nouns, verbs and phrases in sentences," said Ms. Cubley, adding that parents play an important role in this. The school offers a parents' class to help them learn sign language so they can work with the children at home.

The school has been so successful that Ms. Cubley and Ms. Bonnickson are trying to organize a workshop for deaf education teachers to let them know about the methods used and the success rate at USM.

Approximately 50 children have been helped by the school since it was founded in 1973.

LOADING—The space shuttle external tank is loaded aboard an ocean-going barge at the NASA Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans, La. in preparation for the first shipment to Vandenberg Air Force Base in southern California. The external tanks, manufactured by Martin Marietta Aerospace, will be used on shuttle flights originating at Vandenberg beginning in late 1985.

Tank for space shuttle arrives at Vandenberg

The first space shuttle external tank has arrived at Vandenberg Air Force Base (VAFB) after a 5,000 mile journey by water, marking a major milestone in activation of the West Coast space launch complex.

The 154-foot-long external tank, the largest element of the shuttle and its structural backbone, began its journey on Sept. 25 at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's (NASA) Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans, La. Martin Marietta Aerospace manufactures the tank there for NASA.

With the arrival of the tank at Vandenberg, the U.S. Air Force program to construct a launch and landing complex for the shuttle at VAFB continued to progress on schedule. Plans call for the initial launch from the new complex in October 1985.

Most of the major construction at Space Launch Complex-Six (SLC-6) has been completed, including the facility for storage and preparation of the external tank. The last major structural addition to the complex—the Shuttle Assembly Building—is expected to be finished this month.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has been responsible since 1979 for building and facility construction at SLC-6, while Martin Marietta Aerospace has had responsibility since 1975 for design, procurement, installation and checkout of shuttle ground support systems (GSS).

Focus of the work shifted from external construction to GSS integration and testing in May.

The ground support systems consist of 13 new or modified groups of facilities. Major structures, besides the Shuttle Assembly Building, include a launch control center, payload preparation facility, an access tower for the mounted orbiter and a mobile service tower for access prior to liftoff.

The West Coast space launch complex will enable the Air Force to undertake shuttle missions requiring high inclination or polar orbits.

Shuttle missions originating from Vandenberg will carry both Department of Defense and NASA payloads.

For the journey to Vandenberg, the external tank was mounted on a transporter at Michoud and shipped on a covered barge formerly used to tow Apollo segments to Florida's Kennedy Space Center.

The barge entered the harbor at the old Coast Guard boathouse area, south of Point Arguello, Calif. which was dredged in preparation for the arrival. The tank on its transporter was unloaded and towed by a large tractor over a specially-constructed 2.3-mile tow road to Vandenberg's external tank checkout and storage facility, which is capable of storing up to five tanks at a time.

At the facility, the tank will undergo a four-week inspection by the Air Force and its shuttle processing contractors, including Martin Marietta engineers. Early next year, it will be mated with two inert solid rocket boosters and the shuttle orbiter Enterprise for testing of compatibility between the shuttle and ground facilities.

New Orleans art museum to display Southern art

The New Orleans Museum of Art will present the first comprehensive survey of the art history of the American South when the exhibition Painting in the South: 1584-1880 opens on Sunday, Dec. 9.

NOMA's presentation of the exhibition is the final stop of a six-museum tour and the last chance for the public to see this survey of Southern painting.

On view through Feb. 10, 1986, Painting in the South includes nearly 175 portraits, landscapes, seascapes, still life and genre paintings on loan from private and public collections throughout the United States, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, and the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. The exhibition was organized by the Virginia Museum, Richmond, and is sponsored by Philip Morris Incorporated, the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Fellows of the Virginia Museum.

This survey of Southern painting includes Southern-born artists such as William D. Washington, John Kelly Fitzpatrick, Lamar Dodd, William H. Johnson, Jasper Johns, and local artists Robert Gordy and Ida Kohlmeier.

Also represented are Northern and European-born artists who worked in the South and interpreted or were influenced by its culture and history including John Singleton Copely, Winslow Homer, George Catlin, Martin Johnson Heade, and Samuel F.B. Morse and Thomas Moran.

The works reflect the diverse creativity of more than 150 artists. Through their vision, as shown in these paintings, these artists have interpreted the South's unique historical heritage, reflected and commented on its singular cultural character, recorded its breathtaking natural wonders and shaped its distinctive painting tradition.

Painting in the South is arranged in five chronological sections that trace the history of Southern painting: The Early Years, 1584-1790; The Emerging Nation, 1790-1830; Growth and Development of the Old South, 1830-1900; Toward a New South; The Regional Approach, 1900-1950; The Post-War Period, 1950-1980.

Each of these periods was curated by a recognized scholar, respectively: Carolyn J. Weekley, associated director, Abby Aldrich Rockefeller Folk Art Center, Williamsburg, Va.; Linda Crocker Simmons, associated curator, Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C.; Dr. Jessie J. Poesch, professor, Tulane University, New Orleans, La.; Patrick L. Stewart, curator of American Art, Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, Dallas, Tex.; Dr. Donald B. Kuspit, art critic, New York.

The paintings were selected from that territory extending from the Mason-Dixon Line to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic seaboard to the Mississippi River and East Texas. They mirror life and culture in the South over four centuries, from the beginning of colonial days and the 18th-century heyday of European-trained migrant artists, the kaleidoscope of the plantation era, the Civil War and Reconstruction, the brief flair of modernism at Black Mountain College and current work reflecting the complexities of the new South.

The exhibition is rich in revelations and historic highlights. Among these is William D. Washington's The Burial of Latane (1864), a Civil War painting once considered the arch symbol of the "Lost Cause." Washington's painting depicts a group of women conducting a simple funeral for a young Confederate killed in a skirmish with Union troops near Richmond in June 1862.

The exhibition is accompanied by a 352-page, fully-illustrated catalogue (41 color and 194 black-and-white). The catalogue includes essays by the five guest curators, as well as an introduction by Ella Prince Knox, project director for Painting in the South. The catalogue is available in the Museum Shop for $29.95.

Coast Episcopal PTO presents fashions

The Coast Episcopal Schools PTO recently held a luncheon fashion show featuring PTO members and their daughters.

Students who served as models for the event included Kelly Robinson and Liane LaCour of Diamondhead and Ellie Merrick of Pass Christian. Also serving as models were PTO members Mrs. Fred May of Pass Christian, Mrs. Robert Kane and Mrs. Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Charles Davenport of Waveland, Mrs. R. Michael Boyer of Long Beach and Mrs. E. Lee Bennett and Mrs. Lawrence LaCour of Diamondhead.

Fall clothing for the show was provided by Judy Gamewell of the Whistle Stop Boutique on Highway 90.

During the business part of the meeting, PTO president Mrs. Sidney Mizell said three fundraisers for Coast Episcopal Schools are scheduled for November. They include "A Toast to the Coast" on Nov. 9; a performance of the Boys Town Choir from Nebraska on Nov. 20 in the Coast Coliseum; and the schools' annual Christmas Boutique on Nov. 28.

In other business, the PTO voted to provide $500 to help pay for new football uniforms.

Hickman debates against raising drinking age

Mary-Therese Hickman of Bay St. Louis is a student debater on the University of Southern Mississippi's Inquiry and Advocacy debate team, which recently debated the proposed creation of a national drinking age of 21.

Hickman took the negative side of repealing the federal law restricting the allocation of federal highway funds to states with a minimum legal drinking age of 21.

She was a youth congress senator, and is a member of Delta Sigma Pi, business fraternity and a staff writer for the USM newspaper, "student Printz."

Inquiry and Advocacy is an audience-centered debate program in that a topic is chosen that has state interest and the public hears first-hand information on the subject from authorities in the area, according to Terry Thibodeaux, director of forensics.

USM sets three preregistration dates

Pre-registration for the spring semester at the University of Southern Mississippi will be Nov. 27 and Dec. 4 and 6.

Pre-registration allows students to select courses and time schedules prior to regular registration. The entire registration process will be completed with the exception of housing assignments, financial assessments and payment of fees, which will be done on the first day of regular registration. Advisors will be available for counseling, and evaluation of credits will be completed for transfer students.

New freshman and transfer students interested in pre-registration at USM should make an appointment by calling (601) 266-5645 or toll free in Mississippi 1-800-222-1604.

Cheerleaders rate superior

Pass Christian High School cheerleaders received all superior ribbons and were awarded the Spirit Stick two nights out of three during a recent National Cheerleaders Association camp at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Of some 60 cheerleading squads, Pass Christian High was one of the six chosen to compete for the Award of Excellence.

Pass Christian High Cheerleaders include seniors Monica Ladner, captain; Dana Ashley, Captain; Shelly Smith; Sonya Piernas; Alecia Richard; Leonese Govan and Deborah McKay; Tracy Lang, a junior; and sophomores Mary McKay and Toni Laurie.

NOTICE OF BOND SALE

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Waveland, Mississippi, for the usual meeting place in the City Hall in Waveland, Mississippi, until the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M. on December 4, 1984, for the sale, at not less than par and accrued interest, of United States Revenue Bonds (Waveland Associates, Ltd. Project) of the City of Waveland, Mississippi, in the aggregate principal amount to be sold of not less than $2 million and no greater than $2.5 million (the "Bonds").

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a cash deposit of $10,000, which shall be held by the City of Waveland as a bond for the faithful performance of the obligations of the Bonds to be sold by the City and any bond purchase agreement must contemplate that the Bonds may be in default of $2 million to $2.5 million. The Bonds shall be a limited obligation of the City of Waveland, the principal of and interest on the Bonds shall be payable in accordance with the terms of the above-referenced bond purchase agreement, and shall further be payable solely and only from any revenues derived by the City from the following:

(a) All right, title and interest in, to and under an Agreement between the City and Waveland Associates, Ltd., a Mississippi limited partnership.

(b) All right, title and interest of the City in, to and under a Promissory Note executed by the person persons designated pursuant to the aforesaid Loan Agreement.

(c) All right, title and interest of the City in, to and under a Deed of Trust creating a lien in favor of the City on certain real property to be acquired and improved with the proceeds of the Bonds securing the indebtedness evidenced by the aforesaid Promissory Note.

(d) Such other collateral, if any, as may be specified in the aforesaid Bond purchase agreement.

The City will irrevocably pledge and assign the foregoing sources of revenue, without recourse, for the benefit of the holder or holders of the Bonds. The Bonds shall not constitute an indebtedness of the City within the meaning of any constitutional provision or statutory limitation, and shall never constitute a lien or give rise to a pecuniary liability of the City or a charge against the general fund or taxing power of the City. The City shall not be obligated to pay the Bonds and the interest thereon, except from any revenues derived by the City from the aforesaid sources of revenue, including any proceeds from foreclosure of the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

Proposals should be addressed to the City Clerk, should be plainly and legibly written, and should be submitted to the City Clerk on or before the date and time hereinabove specified. The Bonds shall not be sold at less than three percent (3%) per annum.

In the opinion of counsel, interest on the bonds will be exempt from the general sales and use tax of Mississippi as presently interpreted.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN OF THE CITY OF WAVELAND, MISSISSIPPI, this 21 day of November, 1984.

MELISSA HARVILL

Melissa Harvill named All-American Scholar

Melissa Harvill, a ninth grade Bay High School student, has been named an Academic All-American Scholar, according to the National Secondary Education Council.

This scholars' program was established to offer recognition to superior students who excel in academic disciplines. To be selected for the program the student must have a 3.3 or better grade point average and be nominated by secondary school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harvill Jr. of Waveland and the granddaughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Jim Harvill Sr. of Waveland and the late Mr. and Mrs. Lones Hode of Bay St. Louis.

Visiting lecturer to discuss transforming power of love

Visiting Christian lecturer Jack H. Thornton of Marblehead Mass. will discuss 'Divine Love's Transforming Power' at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2 at Gulfport Holiday Inn on US-90.

The one-hour lecture, free and open to the public, is sponsored by the First Church of Christ Scientist, Gulfport.

Child care will be provided, a church spokesman reported.

Thornton says indications such as urban graffiti can be a call of despair from those questioning whether life has meaning or purpose.

This call, he feels, can be answered now, as in Christ Jesus' time, with the assurance that it's "never too late to turn to the outstretched arms of God, no matter what we may have done, or left undone, in our lives. For, as the Bible states, God alone gives meaning and purpose to life."

Thornton says he refers to a God who is not distant or uncaring, but a "loving presence and power" unconditionally at hand for all, whether or not we feel deserving.

The speaker points out that throughout the Bible, God is characterized as Love itself. And, it is this sense of being loved by God which he claims enables individuals to love themselves and others more practically.

Thornton in his lecture gives examples of threatening present-day situations that were transformed as individuals facing unjust accusations and financial reverses turned wholeheartedly to the power of God.

For many years Thornton was associated with 'The Christian Science Monitor' as manager of circulation sales, before entering the ministry of Christian healing as a Christian Science practitioner and member of the denomination's Board of Lectureship.

He authored a children's book, 'Travis Talks with God,' and worked with children locally as a Sunday school superintendent as well as in several other church capacities.

USM professor edits olympics games paper

When University of Southern Mississippi faculty member Gene Wiggins fielded a long-distance telephone call from a former journalism student last spring, he never dreamed it would lead to a month-long newspapering adventure at the summer Olympic Games in Los Angeles.

Dr. Wiggins, a one time sports writer who holds a PhD in communications, initially declined Lacy Lee Baker's surprise offer to work on the first official newspaper of the modern Olympics. Then, he had second thoughts.

"Everybody told me I was nuts, that I wouldn't have an opportunity like that but once. So I called Lacy back and told her I'd come," said Wiggins, a 41-year-old Forest native and the director of USM's School of Communications.

So Wiggins, who was sports editor of the Hattiesburg American before he won a master's degree from USM in 1970, packed up wife Linda and 10-year-old son Matthew in mid-July and left for California and the beginning of Wiggins four-week assignment as assistant editor of The Olympic Record.

Since he was on professional leave from USM, he couldn't accept pay for his summer job. But the International Olympics Committee paid his expenses and provided living accommodations for him and his family on the campus of Occidental College in Glendale. Members of the foreign press corps covering the games also were housed there.

"I had the only child on campus," Wiggins said of Matthew, who's now 11. "He was their resident kid. He's a good boy, a sports nut, and he enjoyed it. He learned a lot."

Lacy Lee Baker, a Jackson native and a 1978 USM journalism graduate, earlier had landed a job as executive editor and project manager of the Olympic newspaper project, and Wiggins was one of several journalism professors she recruited to run the newsroom operation. A team of writers—including former longtime Jackson Daily News Sports Editor Lee Baker, Baker's father—provided daily copy and features.

"I was kind of the news editor," Wiggins said of his assignment. "I made sure the paper got out. I edited copy, wrote headlines, laid out pages. It was a computer publication. It was computer designed, computer published from the site to the printing press."

Members of the staff arrived 12 days prior to the start of the games to develop a newspaper format, work out computer system kinks and put out a 128-page advance special edition listing all Olympic entries. Once the games started, they published a daily tabloid ranging in size from 40 to 48 pages. It listed complete Olympic results, starting times and places of upcoming events and contained feature stories and pictures furnished by an official pool of Olympic photographers.

"Someone laughed and said it was kind of a fancy racing form," joked Wiggins, noting 90,000 to 150,000 copies were published each day and sold for $3 a copy at the various Olympic competition sites, which stretched from 102 miles south to 78 miles north of Los Angeles.

"For most of the 15 days we published, we were either the third or fourth largest publication in the Los Angeles area. It was the intention to make a couple of million dollars. They didn't make $2 million, but they made a lot of money," he said.

Wiggins and other newspaper staffers, operating out of the IOC's

Technology Division facilities in Glendale, worked shifts starting at 2 p.m. and ending at 2 or 3 a.m. the next day. "Twelve-hour days were the shortest days I had once the Olympics got started," he said, noting his schedule left only the mornings free for area sight-seeing or taking in some of the Olympic events.

Even after the games ended, the newspaper staffers returned to their desks to produce a 368-page, official wrap-up edition. "After the closing ceremony, we went back to finish up that big sucker and left there about daylight," Wiggins said. "I was tired, I was exhausted and I was ready to come home."

As director of Mississippi's largest communications school at USM, where he originally graduated with a bachelor's degree in journalism in 1965, Wiggins had plenty of work waiting for him back home in Hattiesburg. Since USM classes started in September, he also has been busy on the speaker's circuit, relating highlights of his summer experience to civic clubs and journalism organizations across the state.

"I would never take anything for having gone and experienced that, just having been a part of it. It (the Olympics) may never come to this country for another 50 years, you never know," said Wiggins.

"I tell everybody when I go around speaking that I think it was important to have the Olympics here right now. It really was," he said. "It did a lot for the country. It's not as political as a lot of people think when it gets down to the level of these young people competing."

Wiggins said he and other staff members of The Olympic Record received special gold medals from the IOC before they departed Los Angeles and he added, with a newspaper man's pride, "We never missed a deadline."
